The FirstService Security Division under its United States operating company Security Services & Technologies (SST) announces the opening of a new Gulf Coast Office.

Valley Forge, PA (June 1, 2004)

SST, a leading provider of integrated electronic security systems in North America announced today the opening of their Gulfport, MS office.

This new office will be linked under their most recent partners, Jim Fairbanks and Tim Palmer. Both are excited about the opportunities that are available in the gulf coast area. Tim Palmer added, "this certainly helps fill the gap geographically between our existing offices in Florida and Texas.

Jim Fairbanks said, "This additional office aligns us well with the business strategy to market to petro-chemical companies."

Frank Brewer, CEO added, "this is a good example where SST is using its business strategy to line up with the industry's growth patterns. We have been very successful in securing several major national client sites in the petro-chemical industry. Our customers have challenged SST to be able provide them with security services in many of the southeastern states. This will allow us to fulfill all their needs."

SST is one of North America's premier system integrators providing innovative products and services for commercial, industrial, utility, petro-chemical, healthcare, pharmaceutical, education and Fortune 1000 clients.
